

ANTHONY

8 Years Old

Diagnosed with Stage 4
Neuroblastoma at age 5

On October 26, 2016 Anthony was diagnosed with Stage 4 Neuroblastoma. The news shattered our family's entire world; it was devastating to know that your child had cancer. We stayed united and gave Anthony all the love we could possibly offer.

Every day he went through chemo with a smile, he never complained about the hospital he called it his "hotel." Anthony's strength and courage got all of us through this fight. Doctors said it would take him 3 years of treatment to get rid of the cancer but thanks to the amazing staff at Cardon Children's Medical Center on January 23, 2018 Anthony had his final day of treatment!

He's currently in 2nd Grade and loves school, playing soccer with all his friends, hanging out with his family, and is the silliest most kind hearted person who's always thinking about others.

Think about all the smiling faces you have helped while you run or walk!
