

JAIIME-JR.

7 YEARS OLD

Diagnosis: Hodgkin's
Lymphoma

Jaime Jr. is an incredibly resilient 7-year-old who enjoys drawing, playing video games, and playing with animals. He would like to be a paleontologist, and a chef when he grows up. Since Jaime was diagnosed with Hodgkin's Lymphoma "I can't go see people and do stuff like I used to, and we go to see doctors a lot!"

Even when he has felt the worst, he has been an inspiration. Jaime Jr. impacts everyone. Facing your own mortality is scary. Facing your child's mortality, someone you love more than life itself, earth shattering. A diagnosis facilitates a treatment plan and control which is nice in times of uncertainty.

Cancer has impacted our family in every way. It has tested our strength and drive, but it also solidified us as a family and as individuals.

We wish to tell other families to live so far past your comfort zone that you find comfort within yourself. It is a long hard road so it is best to roll with the punches and learn to indulge in celebrating even the "smallest" of milestones; those are the things that get you through the lows.

Even when he has felt the worst, he has been an inspiration.
Jaime Jr. impacts everyone.

Think about all the smiling faces you have helped while you run or walk!
