12 YEARS OLD
Anaplastic large cell lymphoma

Kevin enjoys hunting, baseball and football. When he grows up, he would like to own a small business.

This cancer journey has been hard on a lot of people. It makes us be apart for long periods, and we lose time together as a family unit. Cancer impacts the family financially, but most of all you lose control and have to rely on someone else to save your child. We remind ourselves...Don't ever give up!

One good thing that came out of the diagnosis was learning that life is too short, and most things can change in an instant.

My warrior Kevin, he fights hard and just keeps pushing. We also know God is with us every step of the way.

Try to not stop living, make sure your other children still feel as normal as possible.

Think about all the smiling faces you have helped while you run or walk!
